MODEL FARM WINDBREAK

A special Bulletin No. 168
"Planting the Standard Wind-break" sent upon request.

This MODEL FARM WINDBREAK is modeled by Minn. department of Conservation; E.V. Willard, Commisioner. Planned by Karl A. Danielson, Forest Ass. and compiled by G.M. Conzet, Director of Forestry Division. We are offering the trees best suited for this territory. If you want Cottonwood instead of Ch. Elm, they will come in 2-3ft. size. White Spruce for Scotch Pine comes in 6 to 8 inch size. White Spruce roots spread out about 16ft. Scotch Pine about 38!

PLANTING DIRECTIONS

When the trees arrive set the bunch in the water tank. If not able to plant in one day, dig them into loose soil, pack firmly with your heel and be sure roots are well covered. Before setting out in rows, dip the roots in a mud bath (hold a small bunch in hand and work them up and down in the mud bath). Each row should be plowed 2 or 3 times, as deep as possible just before planting. Dig out additional dirt for each tree if roots cramp too much. Cover top of roots about 3 to 6 inches.

We transplanted satisfactorily 20,000 or so, young trees the first of season in 1936 in this manner. We recommend planting about May 1. and as soon as trees are plant your tree

SPECIAL NOTICE

If you live in Minn. or other State where the U.S. Government is paying each farmer $7.50 or $10.00 (depending on location) an acre on his windbreak or tree shelter-belt acreage he plants, you should see your local County Agent this spring, or immediately.

Think of planting 800 or 1175 trees with actual cost of only about $1.00. Figure it out!
